Restoring the Crown Jewels: Carrs Bush Project

By Chris Noon and Barry Lees

OCT 2015

The 55 hectares of Fagan Park, with its many community attractions, has been described as "the crown jewels of Hornsby Shire". The Park includes an area called Carrs Bush - 6 hectares of threatened and highly valued Sydney Turpentine Ironbark Forest. It is in excellent condition except for a section on the corner of Bayfield and Carrs roads that has been invaded by weeds.

Still Creek Landcare has been successful in obtaining a grant to help Council regenerate this section. Over the next 3 years, we will remove privet, blackberry, honeysuckle and other nasties. The aim is to bring a large part of this section up to the standard of the remainder.

The project is supported by Greater Sydney Local Land Services through funding of $39,930 from the Australian Government's National Landcare Programme. Hornsby shire Council will donate plants from the Community Nursery.

The work will be done by contractors and volunteers. At a later date we will be looking for volunteers to help us with weeding and planting.

When the time comes, please help us restore the crown jewels!
